Errata.

Page 81, for John Sampson, esq. read James.

P. 545, b. line 13, for 81 read 71; line 31, for Sussex read Surrey; p. 546 a. 50, for Denon read Dinan.

P. 608. In the 2 Chron. iii. 15, "Also he made before the house two pillars of thirty and five cubits high, and the chapiter that was upon the top of each of them was five cubits." This makes each pillar 17½ cubits high instead of 18; and the proportion 3½ instead of 3 and 3-5ths. Jeremiah, lii. 22, is the same as 1 Kings, vii.

P. 655, line 46, read Mesereau's ferry on Staten Island.

P. 658 a. 34, for Haymarket read Covent Garden. Mr. Colman held for some time the post of Exon of the Yeomen of the Guard, and disposed of it for a valuable consideration.

P. 666 b. line 2. The late Alderman Warwick of Maidstone (a native of Carleton near Carlisle) never resided at Cambridge, but was younger brother to the late Mr. Thomas Warwick of that town.

The contents of this Work are entirely confined to materials before unpublished, and its principal objects are as follow:

1. To form a vehicle for detached essays in topography and genealogy.
2. To publish records, or abstracts of records, of general value to all topographers, but not likely to obtain the attention of the Record Commission.
3. To furnish a receptacle for valuable documents which may incidentally occur in making researches, but which are foreign to the objects immediately in view.
4. To fix and preserve scattered fragments of information.

In what has been already published, much has been for the first time made accessible to the Local Historian and Genealogist; much has been done to correct and improve the three great Works of Dugdale, Tanner, and Dodsworth; and the information thus collected is made available by complete indexes.

Vols. I. II. and III. may be now had in boards, price 1*l.* 1*s.* each.
